FAQs about CSA Enrollment (in light of COVID-19)

➔ Given the current pandemic situation, are there any general changes to our set-up/offerings/cost/pick-up locations and times?

We will continue to adapt our CSA distributions as guidance changes throughout the year, but here are the practices we currently have lined up to ensure the safe distribution of the food we grow.

- We are offering home-delivery to CSA members who need it
- At all distributions, we will have friendly, yet firm requirements around physical distancing
- We will cap the number of people in the market space/barn -- please know that this may mean there are longer wait times to pick up your share this year. We will do everything we can to make the experience enjoyable and swift!
- Masks are required to be worn by all members and staff
- For those in a rush who aren't signed up for boxed delivery, we'll have a few pre-made CSA boxes available at each pickup for people in a rush who don't want to wait in line to choose their own vegetables.

Please know that our plans will change as necessary/possible to continue to comply with state and local guidelines, and to make the experience a positive, easeful and joyful one for everyone! We'll learn and adapt as we go and keep you posted along the way!

➔ Is the farm share definitely happening?

◆ It will! We are considered an “essential” business so we are able to continue farming and providing food to members of our community.

➔ What if I can't physically go pick up my CSA? Will there be a delivery option?

◆ Yes! We are offering Weekly CSA box Delivery, available for people who are homebound or do not feel safe picking up their food because of the Covid-19 outbreak.

➔ Will this influence my access to the Pick-Your-Own Garden?

◆ We currently plan to have the Pick-Your-Own Garden available to you this summer! Safety guidelines will likely include things like Bring-Your-Own scissors, Wear-Your-Own masks, Keep-Your-Own distance, Touch-Only-Your-Own harvest! More to come on the details of Pick-Your-Own as we get closer to its opening!

➔ Will you still have food demos at the pick-ups?

◆ As much as we LOVE cooking up delicious treats for you, we will be putting food demos on pause until we are told it is safe to do so again! Until then, we’ll keep up with our recipes and you’ll have to trust that we only provide you with delicious dish ideas! :)}
